

Sinclair Broadcasting has made a bad decision
for Americans. By forcing their stations to air an anti-Kerry
documentary just days before the election, they are
demonstrating the real danger of media
consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. When large companies control
the airwaves,
democracy suffers.
We want less
"centralized" news
and need to see more real people from our own communities. We want more
substantive news
about issues that matter.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license
renewal process
needs to involve
more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
